FOREST SOILS BIBLIOGRAPHY
FOR THE NORTH-CENTRAL REGION
(Including Subject Matter Index Through 1972)

Willard H. Carmean

FOREWORD

This bibliography includes forest soils literature for the North-Central States (Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana); Ohio; and the Northern Plains States (Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas). Publications from other regions were included when applicable to conditions in the North-Central Region.

This is a large region covering many diverse soil, topographic, climatic, and vegetal conditions. The field of forest soils also is diverse, and thus forest soils literature for this region has become varied and voluminous. We hope this bibliography will not only be a helpful reference, but also perhaps will partially reveal the present level of forest soils knowledge for the North-Central Region.

The bibliography was begun by the Forest Soils Committee of the North Central Regional Work Planning Conference of the National Cooperative Soil Survey. The author extends his thanks to the many committee members who reviewed the bibliography and who provided citations for their particular States. Appreciation also is extended to the many other University, State, and Federal soil scientists who provided citations and helpful suggestions.

The bibliography is arranged in alphabetical order by author. An index provides a list of references by subject matter; tables summarizing site index curves and soil-site studies also are included. We would appreciate being notified of any errors, and also we would be glad to know of any publications that were omitted and should be included in a future supplement.
